Never walk past a mistake

Overview

This document contains an update to the “living” South King Fire & Rescue strategic leadership planning process. South King Fire & Rescue recognizes that we are a public safety partner belonging to a larger South King County Community. As such, we believe that we must align our Strategic Plan with our external public partners and the communities we serve. To better assure that SKF&R’s Strategic Leadership Plan is in alignment with the communities we serve and meets the needs of the organization, a three pronged approach has been adopted. First, we invited key community and public agency leaders from throughout the community to share their organization’s vision and identify potential challenges that may obstruct that vision. We then had them participate in a Strengths, Weaknesses, Opportunities and Threats (S.W.O.T) analysis representing their external viewpoint of South King Fire & Rescue. Second, we conducted an internal S.W.O.T analysis SKF&R itself. Then lastly, utilizing the information from both the external and internal S.W.O.T analysis, we conducted a review of our Mission, Vision, and Guiding Principles to develop goals and objectives to achieve our Mission and Vision.

This Strategic Leadership Plan will be implemented utilizing a thorough In-Process-Review mechanism coupled with community based focus groups to assure the organization remains current, on target and in alignment with our communities’ needs.

In Process Review

The key to the successful implementation of a Strategic Leadership Plan lies in an organization's ability and commitment to drive and follow up on the Strategic Leadership Plan utilizing a structured In Process Review program. The In Process Review is utilized to keep the organization on track through continual review and prioritization of goals and objectives. The process also ensures the goals and objectives are in organizational alignment by providing direct communication, feedback, and coordination between the organization's divisions. South King Fire & Rescue will also utilize community focus groups to educate the public on our progress and to ensure the organization is in alignment with the community's needs and expectations.

In Process Review:

The In Process Review will be conducted quarterly to review and prioritize goals and objectives. The process will also be utilized to exchange integrated action plans to provide for divisional input and help assure organizational alignment.

The In Process Review will be utilized to measure our progress and to ensure that the organization is current, on target, and in alignment organizationally and with our community's needs.

Community Focus Groups:

Focus groups will be conducted annually utilizing our public partners to educate the public on our progress and to assess public input and perception on the direction of South King Fire and Rescue. It will provide feedback on whether the organization is on target and meeting the public and our partner's needs. The information will be utilized to modify and improve the Strategic Leadership Plan.
